

Fathers May Be on October Call

Selective Service Issues
Orders to Get Classes of Fathers Into the Service

According to press reports, Selective Service boards are being ordered to call men with children into military service. The number of children is no cause for deferment.

The local board has not received the official orders from Washington, but will probably have these bulletins by the end of this week.

The quota of 29 men on the call for August 19 will practically wipe out all available single men and married men without children.

There are a large number of single and married men without children in the county who are given deferments due to their agricultural operations and the fact that they are engaged in essential industries which allow automatically deferred by Selective Service.

When the official bulletins are received, the local Selective Service board will study the new regulations with the view of calling married men with children who are not deemed to be in essential industries.

The call for August 19 may be the last call on the local board before married men with children will be made available for military service.

Third Amount of Wheat in 1943 as Compared to '42

M. R. McReynolds of this city who is manager of the elevator at Bushland states that only about one-third as much wheat was harvested this year as was raised last year in that section of the country.

The hail destroyed a considerable acreage, and a large acreage was abandoned because of the weeds which grew so rapidly during the rains at harvest time.

Some of the large operators are reducing their wheat acreage for the coming year because of the lack of labor.

Thursday of Next Week Is Final Day for Women to Get Recipes to News Office

Thanks for the recipes which have been coming to the News office this week. A large number of new recipes have been received, and The News is very grateful to all the women of Randall county who have sent in these recipes.

The News asks that all women who will send in recipes for the new book shall do this on or before Thursday, August 12. The News has been talking about the new book for several weeks, and it is now time that a dead line be set so that printing may start on the new book before the end of this month. The News hopes that the book will be completed by the middle of September.

Women who have not sent in their receipts are urged to take a little time off this week and send them in. We would appreciate having one recipe from every woman in Randall county.

July Bond Sale Fails Its Quota

Last Days' Spurt in Sales Failed to Up Month's Total to Meet the July Quota

Randall county failed to meet the July quota of War Bonds.

The quota for the month was $24,500; the sales amounted to $21,374.50, thus leaving a deficit of $3,125 for the month.

The sales during the last four days of the month amounted to $4,818.75. Had this ratio been maintained throughout the month the quota would have been more than reached.

The August quota has not been received by County Chairman R. H. Wright, but will probably be about the same as the quota for July.

Camp for Scouts Will Be Held on August 23 to 30

The Llano Estacado Area Mountain Camp, has been set for August 23-30. This camp is to be held at Philmont Scout Ranch with headquarters near Cimarron, N. M.

Activities of the camp include horseback riding over rugged mountain trails, hiking, trout fishing and further explorations of wild life.

Field Executive Maurice Teague will direct the activities of the camp, being assisted by Philmont Camp director, B. B. Dawson.

Camp fee will be $10.50, and arrangements for transportation have not been completed.

All applicants for summer camp will be required to take a complete physical check-up three days prior to leaving for camp. Each boy will receive a re-check upon arrival in camp.

In a telegram to the Scout executives from J. P. Fitch, regional Scout executive, this is found: "New advice from U. S. Public Health Service recommends against accepting Scouts for Philmont from any county, Texas or Oklahoma, where polio (infantile paralysis) cases have been recorded July 1-24."

All Scouts in Randall county anticipating attending this camp are asked to register with their local Scoutmaster.

Canning Demonstration on Fruits and Vegetables Held Thursday

Water Bath and Pressure Cooker Are Used in Making Demonstration at Graham's

A demonstration on canning fruits and vegetables was given Thursday of last week in the home of Mrs. Walter Graham, whose home is in the southwest corner of the county, by Miss Frances Wilroy, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The water bath was used to demonstrate the method of canning fruit and tomatoes. Vitamin C is very easily destroyed by high temperatures. Since fruits and tomatoes contain a high percentage of vitamin C, the water bath method is recommended.

Plums were canned. The plums were packed in the jar raw; hot syrup was poured over the fruit. The jars were heated by placing them in the water bath cooker for 10 minutes. Then the lids were placed on the jars and the jars were sealed. After sealing, the jars were placed in the water bath again, covered well with hot water and left in the cooker about 25 minutes with the water around 180 degrees.

The pressure cooker was used for non-acid vegetables. Green beans were canned; the recipe follows:

Large Number of Cases in County

Remedy Given by County Agent in Order to Combat Disease Among the Cattle

Livestock owners in Randall county are experiencing more than the usual amount of trouble from screw worm infestation in all animals, especially cattle. This infestation at the present time, according to a survey made last week by County Agent W. H. Upchurch, is more than double the normal number of cases.

Screw worm flies do not winter over in Randall county but are brought into this area with livestock moving from South to North in the late winter and early spring. This year conditions were very favorable for the development of a heavy infestation of screw worms on account of a very mild winter and warm spring in the area where the flies live through the winter. This was aided by a heavy movement of cattle from infested areas.

Trained men working for the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine have developed an economical remedy called "Smear 62" which is very effective in controlling screw worms. This treatment not only kills the worms quickly, when swabbed into the wounds, but will kill eggs that may be laid on the wound for a day or two afterwar. "Smear 62" is recommended above all other remedies as being effective and economical.

It is recommended that all cases be treated with the smear a second time, from 24 to 48 hours after the first treatment, in order to insure a complete kill and to aid healing of the wound.

Any wound on an animal that produces as much as a drop of blood is likely to attract the screw worm fly when they are as plentiful as at present.

The screw worm flies are not likely to be very much reduced in numbers until cold weather unless livestock owners are able to control all cases by treatment before worms mature.

James A. Currie Died Wednesday; Funeral Saturday

James Anderson Currie, 83, died Wednesday afternoon after an illness of several months. He was a pioneer of the south part of the county, where he lived for 52 years. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Methodist Church in Happy, Rev. Elmer Crabtree officiating.

Who Has That Money?

The president informs us that because there are billions of dollars on deposit in our banks that this money must be taken away from the owners in the form of taxes in order to avoid a mad rush of buying when consumer goods are available. According to his statement prices will be madly advanced when people demand goods, and there are only limited amounts available.

So far as the war is concerned, no loyal American citizen objects to paying all of the taxes necessary to win the war. No one wants to deprive any of our men in the armed services of any single weapon, or any food, and any material that is necessary for his safety, or that will make it possible for him to win the war as quickly as possible.

But taking the savings of people away from them simply to keep them from spending the money they have saved does not sound good to a country boy who does not profess to know one single thing about high finance.

No one will charge that professional people are profiting from the war. The teachers of the nation, several million of them; the preachers; the lawyers; the small business men, including the thousands of newspaper workers; all of these have seen their incomes actually shrink because of the decline in business and the advanced cost of living. Merchants could make a lot of money if they had goods to sell, but their overhead expenses have advanced, and their sales are less, therefore they are not profiting from the war.

The farmers certainly are not making any big sums of money from the war. The ceiling prices, loss of adequate farm machinery and labor have shot upward the cost of production so that the millions of farm people are not the ones the President could accuse of having too much money. Besides this, it will take millions of dollars to replace the farm machinery and equipment which is being worn out during the war.

Then who are profiting from the war? And who should be penalized with these high taxes?

Those who live near war plants and near large training centers have a pretty good idea as to where the money has drifted, and about whom the President was talking. When men and women who have never been capable of earning more than $15 to $25 per week stepped into war jobs which paid them from $75 to $125 per week, we wondered how long the foolishness could continue. The administration has given the great waster of money through the distribution of wages which have not been earned. The administration refused to place a ceiling on wages, and allowed war plant wages to soar to a ridiculous scale.

To tax away this money may be all right, but how can the tax be applied judiciously to those who have not profited by war prices?

We believe that the American people are willing to give everything that they are making during the war, if the war efforts are being advanced, but they certainly resent the insinuation that they must be taxed to the hilt in order to wipe out their surplus which they are saving in order to replace their tools and machinery which are being worn out during the war.

With Mussolini knocked out of the war, we have no right to become over-enthusiastic and believe that the war is about over. Even the fall of Italy, eminent at most any minute, does not mean that Germany will fold up over night. The Germans are spreading a new brand of propaganda. They are told to enjoy the war as the peace following the war will be much worse. No doubt the German people believe much of this. While every American citizen would like to see Germany fold up as quickly as Mussolini did, there is a vast difference in the temperament of the people. The German people realize that Germany will be reduced to a second rate nation if they do not win. The fellows who are feeding this propaganda to the Germans are the ones who are slated for punishment as war criminals, and they know that the peace is going to be hard on them.

Some counties report that fully half of the rural schools may not open this fall because of the lack of teachers. It is too bad that munition plants have bid so high for labor, which the school districts cannot match, that thousands of teachers have left the school rooms for more profitable vocations. Of course they all realize that as soon as the war is over their jobs will terminate. But it is unfortunate that one branch of the government is able to deprive such an essential branch, as our schools, of the best material even for an indefinite period of time.

"Boys," said the Sunday School teacher, "can any of you quote a verse from the Bible proving that bigamy is wrong-doing?"

"I can," replied the brightest member of the class. "It's this: 'No man can serve two masters.'"

Husband (answering telephone): "I don't know. Call the weather bureau."

Pretty Young Wife: "Who was that?"
Husband: "Some sailor, I guess. He asked if the coast was clear."

"But surely you did not tell him straight out that you love him?"
"No fear, he had to squeeze it out of me."

Mother: I see where they have found a sheep in the Himalayas that can run 40 miles an hour.

Father: It would take a lamb like that to keep up with Mary nowadays.

Fourth Term Talk

It is quite natural that Republicans charged the President with fishing for a fourth term sentiment in his talk last Wednesday night. With the election only 15 months away, most any speech that the President might make could be charged as political.

Looking forward to what is going to happen after the war is the only sensible way to do. The isolationists of the Republican party have been telling us that we should win the war, and then think about the peace. That is exactly what happened after World War I, and the mess in which we left the world resulted in World War II.

The only part of the President's speech that could be interpreted as political was his reference to paying soldiers after they returned home. In view of the lack of explanation most any kind of emphasis could be put on this passage of his speech. The Republicans proclaimed that the President was getting ready to "buy" the soldier vote by making promises of throwing billions of dollars into the laps of the discharged service men. Since Roosevelt has the reputation of being a free spender, the charge was very natural.

A recent charge was made by the Republicans that the President was going to keep the war going until after election. This absurd statement fell flat, since the officers doing the fighting would have to be taken into consideration before such an order would be possible. And the fighting men want to get the job done so they may come home.

The President made clearer his position Saturday on a bonus for the men being discharged. He was willing to give each man three months' pay in order that he might seek a job, and insurance for six months that he would secure a job. He hopes to avoid a duplication of the fight for a bonus as staged after the last war. Many observers believe that there should be differences in the grade of pay given the released soldiers; the men who have never been sent across and have undergone no danger should not be paid as much as those who were in combat. Be that as it may, the fact that the President has made the proposition assures that both the Republicans and the Democrats will be sold on the idea before election.

The President could not refrain from taking a few cracks at the press in his radio talk, but he overlooked the fact that the newspapers have been printing the things which members of his administration said and what they were doing. If the public is to judge by the complimentary remarks which are made in Washington by members of the administration, things are in pretty much of a mess, and therefore should be aired.

The Gallup poll revealed Sunday that if the election were held today and Roosevelt was to be opposed by Willkie, that the President would win by a greater majority than he did in 1940. So that's that.

If infantile paralysis should break out in Canyon there would be a frantic effort made to clean up the town; cut the weeds, eliminate breeding places for flies; ban live stock from the city limits and, no doubt we might do some rather drastic things to check the disease. In times of danger, we get busy and do things in a hurry. At least that is what has happened in other towns where the dreaded disease has started. But since we have no cases of this terrible disease, why not do the things now that we would have to do if there were cases here? The fact that the disease is within 60 miles of Canyon should make us realize that danger lurks within easy range of Canyon. There have never been so many flies as we have in Canyon today. Perhaps this is due to the fact that there are more chickens in the city; help is so scarce that the weeds have not been cut; we have become careless about disposing of garbage and other trash. The fact nevertheless remains that if we are to avoid the disease, we should clean up the town now, and keep it clean.

Small towns are having a hard time to enforce decent business hours. There is always the urge to stay open just as long as customers come in. Every business firm is greatly handicapped by the shortage of help, and the fact that merchandise has become so scarce. Shoppers should take all of this into consideration. Don't rush to your shopping place a few minutes before, and after closing time, and thus force the merchants to observe longer hours. Business men need rest from their usual jobs, and need recreation. If shoppers will be more considerate business hours in Canyon, and every other small town, could chop an hour or two every day from their usual store hours without impairing service to the customers.

The Newsman had a birthday this week. We have reached the good old age of 33 years. If you have any doubt about this assertion, it was just 33 years ago—August 1, 1910—that we took charge of the Canyon News. Only one newspaper man in Northwest Texas has been longer with the same publication. A. J. (Jack) Stricklin down at Brownfield has been publisher of the Terry County Herald for 34 years, making him dean of Northwest Texas publisher, while we play assistant dean. Of course, in experience and ability Old Jack is fully a 100 years older than the Newsman.

In Sicily we read about our troops advancing 20 to 25 miles per day. Against the Japs we advance 50 to 75 yards per day. In Sicily we are facing an enemy who knows he is defeated. In the Pacific we face an enemy who is a religious fanatic, and who believes that it is his duty to give his life to his Emperor. The Japs have vast resources at their command, which they need only to develop to make a self-sufficient nation until our planes begin to rain bombs on Tokyo—then the picture will change, and change very rapidly.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

Hibiscus flaunts its big, crimson blossoms down in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and bougainvillea's light purple is all around. Thousands and thousands of orange and grapefruit trees line the highway and, in season, are radiant in blossoms and fruit. Then there are olive trees and lemon trees as well as palm trees of contrasting kinds—one a chunky "explosion" of dense green leaves, the other a slim and graceful trunk crowned with foliage. Then there are mocking-birds and butterflies, the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande with "a foreign land only a step away."

With this tropical wonderland of beauty, perfume and song in Texas, nevertheless it is estimated that only a million out of our 6,500,000 inhabitants have ever visited the region. It is probable that more of the inhabitants of the upper half of the State have viewed much more distant but less charming Southern California.

This should not be, Texas should see their own Magic Valley at their first opportunity.

Jim Grisham, Dallas attorney who used to practice law in West Texas, has a droll sort of wit. One day, a young lawyer of the oil boom town who had very little learning or experience, met Grisham and exclaimed, "I've just been paid a thousand dollar fee to represent a man accused of murder. If you were me, what would you do?" Grisham solemnly answered, "I would use part of the fee to hire me a good lawyer." Afterward, he related, "You know that fellow walked away, downright mad. I never could figure out why."

"...and you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box!"

WHEN I was a kid my father used to sing a song that ended up with this refrain:

"Oh, save up your money and put it in your box, And you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box."

Well, the words stuck with me, but I guess the moral didn't.

No matter how hard I tried . . . I never seemed to be able to save up a red cent.

But it's all different now!

About 10 months ago, I started buying War Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. Figured it was the least I could do for Uncle Sam.

And that's the only way I thought about it . . . until just recently.

Now, all of a sudden, I've discovered that—for the first time in the history of Yours Truly—I'm saving dough. Every month, rain or shine, hell-or-high-water I'm sticking away a War Bond, a Bond that'll bring me back $4.00 for every $3.00 I put in.

Those Bonds are beginning to mount up now. And I'm going to keep them mounting up. For I've discovered what a swell feeling it is to be saving . . . on a plan that's regular as clockwork and twice as sure.

So I'm singing father's song . . . a little different.

"Oh, save up your War Bonds and put them in your box, And you'll always have tobacco in your old tobacco box."

THIRD WAR LOAN DRIVE

Fifteen billion dollars is the goal for the Third War Loan which President Roosevelt has proclaimed will be launched September 9. In his proclamation the President said, "Our need for money now is greater than ever, and will continue to grow until the very day that Victory is won; so we must ask for more sacrifice, for more cooperation than ever before."

ARMY PHOTO SERVICE GROWS

The Army's radio photo service, which made it possible for the public to see newspaper pictures of the assault on Sicily on the same day that the invasion was launched, will be augmented in the immediate future by the same type of transmission from the South Pacific theater, the War Department has announced. Personnel of the U. S. Army Signal Corps, with their equipment, are now in Australia, finishing preparations for the new service.

SUPPLY OF FATS, OILS

Despite heavy wartime demands on the supply of edible fats and oils (principally lard, butter, shortening, and margarine), 44 pounds per capita—about 5 pounds less than in 1942—will be made available to American civilians during the 12 months ending June 30, 1944, the War Food Administration has announced. Of the total civilian allocation, approximately 9 ounces per week per capita will be available for direct purchases, and an additional 4½ ounces for indirect consumption in such items as restaurant meals, bakery products, mayonnaise, etc.

COST OF LIVING DROPS

With other living costs relatively stable, a drop in fresh vegetables and butter prices cut the cost of living for city workers by 0.2 per cent in the month ending June 15

—the first month to show a reduction since a year before Pearl Harbor, the U. S. Department of Labor reported recently. Food prices as a whole, making up over 40 per cent of the cost of living index, declined 0.8 per cent. The cost of living index now stands at 124.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average. Food prices are 45 per cent above January 1941 and more than 16 per cent above May 1942.

HOME CANNERS WARNED

Home canners have been warned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture against the use of "canning powders" and other chemical preservatives. W. G. Campbell, Commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, said that use of some of the "canning powders" constitutes a definite health hazard. The term "canning powders," includes boric acid and its compounds and substances like metabisulfite which yield sulfur dioxide when brought in contact with an acid-reacting food product. The safe way for the home canner is to process foods adequately with heat and not to use chemical preservatives. For safety's sake, rely on thorough heat sterilization.

ARMY EXCHANGES SELL EXOTIC WARES

Army Exchanges, which follow American troops wherever they go, are now dealing in such items as kangaroo rugs, grass skirts, and native-made jewelry, in addition to their staple line of cigarettes, candy, soft drinks, and other home commodities, the War Department has been informed. Since many of the soldiers want to send such things home, the Exchange Service buys them from the natives at a reasonable price and resells them to the soldiers. The natives were inclined to "jack up the price" on direct sales. Grass skirts sell for approximately $1.50, while a good kangaroo rug may cost $20.

MASS MAILING FINISHED

Approximately 122,000,000 copies of War Ration Book Three had been mailed by the first of last week. OPA announced that: (1) anyone who does not receive his War Ration Book Three should apply at his local board between August 1 and 10; (2) a plan is now being set up to distribute War Ration Book Three to members of the armed services who are eligible for ration books; (3) persons receiving War Ration Book Three should sign their names and addresses in the spaces reserved for that purpose on the cover.

The provision permitting retailers to make emergency reductions in the point values of rationed meats, fats and dairy products in imminent danger of spoiling, which was to expire July 31, has been extended indefinitely, OPA has announced.

STORAGE FOR POTATOES

Arrangements have been completed to provide additional storage facilities for handling the late crop of 1943 Irish potatoes, the War Food Administration has announced. WPB has approved the allocation of materials for the construction of storage facilities sufficient to take care of 15 million bushels of potatoes. Farmers should apply to their County War Boards for approval to begin construction.

BINDER TWINE SUPPLY

An adequate supply of binder twine is available for this year's harvest of grain crops, the WPB Binder Twine Sub-Committee has reported. This ample supply has been made possible through the blending of cotton with henequen to produce a new twine which has proved satisfactory.

INCREASE SHOE SUPPLY

To increase the supply of children's and infants' shoes, and men's work shoes, WPB recently amended order M-217 (Footwear) to permit a 25 per cent increase in the output of shoes for boys, misses, children, and infants. Production of men's work shoes may be increased by 15 per cent and men's safety shoes by 25 per cent. The order also will permit increased production of shoes at price levels where there is greater consumer demand.

FEWER NEW TIRES

Smaller quotas of new passenger car tires for August and larger quotas of used and recapped tires have been announced by OPA, based on rationing allotments assigned for the month by the Office of Rubber Director. The August quota of Grade I tires is the lowest since last April. OPA officials warned that drivers who are eligible for new tires may have to accept used or recapped types as long as the quota of new tires is low.

Stagner Receives Flying Cross For Air Service

First Lt. Earl V. Stagner, who recently received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal for service in the South Pacific War Theatre, would mark down one night, spent on the ground at Henderson Field, Guadalcanal, as just about the most unpleasant experience of his active service, relatives here said this week. Stagner spent the night, or parts of it in three different foxholes, while Japanese batteries were trying to shell the American forces from their newly-won positions; and he says that he left the first two of those foxholes "just in time."

Stagner's citation is for distinguished air service during the eight months' time from August 1942, to April 1943, during which time he took part in 60 missions over enemy territory. His duties as pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress included more reconnaissance flying than actual combat, but reconnaissance, according to flying men, is one of the most hazardous jobs in the Air Corps, since a single Flying Fortress has a good chance of meeting up with a formation of enemy flyers, and if the odds are too heavy, the Fort has pretty slim chances of limping through the battle.

During his Pacific duty, Lieutenant Stagner was stationed at Guadalcanal and in the New Hebrides, and his crew claimed the honor of making first observations of the famous Munda Air Base.

Ready for Action After his return to the States and a furlough spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stagner, and other relatives here, Lieutenant Stagner spent some time in an Army hospital to get in condition for further active duty. He was at Brigham City, Utah, last week but was expected to be sent to a new station soon.

Born in Hereford, Lieutenant Stagner, attended rural schools and graduated from Dimmitt High School, afterward graduating from West Texas State in June 1941, after which he enlisted in the Army Air Corps, completing his training as a bomber pilot at Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif., in August, 1942, and going immediately into foreign service.

Sgt. Hollabaugh Writes Letter on Africa Conditions

The following letter has been received from Africa, written by Sgt. Frank Hollabaugh, who went from Canyon with Company F:

You have been asking me about this part of the world. We are restricted to what we can write but I will go as far as the censor will allow. It would take more time than I have to spare to write you about the things we find so different to our customs back in the dear Ole States. That is the land of every American soldier's dream. We hope and pray for the future which should find us all back where we started several months, which now seems like several years.

It has been almost four months since we left the States. We were loaded on ships and were moved out and weren't told where we were going for several days. When we were told it certainly was a surprise. It took 13 days from the time we loaded until we were unloaded over here. On the trip over we were certainly a sick bunch, but as soon as we set foot on the good old earth again we felt much better. It won't take the place of that good old American soil, but will have to do until we have done our job over here and can get back home.

Before we arrived, we were given small booklets. They contained the type of people found here and their customs. The French and Arabs are the two main types.

The Arabs are very funny people. Their dress is what seems so funny to us. The men wear turbans around their heads. For trousers they have knee length ones with the stride down below the knees. The women's dresses are a piece of cloth wrapped around them, with the head-piece attached to it. This piece is put around the head and almost completely covers the head and face. How they see out is a mystery to me. A small triangular opening about three-quarters of an inch in size is left for them to see out. We call them "peeping toms." Everywhere you look you see children. Their homes are tents in which the whole family lives in one tent, even to the cows and sheep.

The French customs are somewhat the same as the American, only about 25 years behind time. They have treated us very nicely. We have to be very careful where we walk to keep from stepping on the children, they are so numerous and always underfoot. Apparently, all they have been taught is "give me bomb," meaning candy, chewing gum, "cigarette for papa," "give me money." We have to be very gruff with them for if we were not they would run us crazy.

The crops they grow over here are very few. One that you see every day is grape vineyards. The French can't get along without their little sips of wine. They drink wine at every meal and wine for water.

Now, as to the money part of it. We use francs. For a dollar we get 50 francs. We have very little metal change. Centimes are change for francs. It takes a hundred centimes to make a franc, so you see if we carried much money around we would have a pocket full. In bills, a five franc is equal to our dime. There are a very few ten franc bills. A fifty franc bill is the same as an American dollar. These bills run all the way up to five thousand francs which would be a hundred dollars. I am sure they run higher, but I have never seen any larger. The bills are so large we would use them for saddle blankets back in the States. They are made of nothing but paper so you see we have to be very careful with them or we would wear them out very easily. Last month we were paid in American money which had gold seals on it. Back in the States you will notice that they have a green seal. The French won't take the green seal money so the gold seal was put out. The past month when we were paid in American money, it really looked good to us. I saw one of the new pennies yesterday.

day. That was the first I knew it had been changed. I guess so many things will be changed before we get back, we'll have to start all over again.

Where we are now we can go down to the ocean and take a dip any time we want to; surely makes it nice. I hope this will answer a few of the questions that have been on your minds. If not, let them come and I will try my best to answer them if I am permitted to do so. So I would love to be with you all, but can't.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for their words of sympathy and deeds of kindness to us in the loss of our husband, father and grandfather. Also for the lovely floral offerings. Our prayer is that may God richly bless you all.

and brined foods are included. Green beans and squash have been dried using the electric drier. A good quality of vegetables was used; care was observed in handling the vegetables to prevent bruising. Uniform products were used.

The beans (and squash) were steamed in order to retain vitamin B and C, more minerals and a better color.

One inch of water was put in a large container. The prepared vegetables were placed in a colander or a sack. The boiling water did not touch the vegetables. The beans were steamed 15 minutes. They were then placed in a drier in several trays; a 225 watt light bulb was used, keeping the temperature at 120 degrees F. Successful drying depends on three things, dryness of the air, temperature of the air, and the circulation of the air.

Mrs. Davis is now drying okra. Trays were made which fit in the oven of her stove. The temperature is kept at 125 degrees F.

Mrs. Davis has found the experiment to be an interesting one and she is making her contribution to the war effort in conserving all the food she can.

Tribute Paid To Men Serving In Armed Services

Pvt. James K. Drummond received this poem from his grandmother, Mrs. J. Z. Drummond of Austin, and because he liked it so well, he sent it to his mother, Mrs. Cora L. Drummond:

"DEAR LADS IN KHAKI"

Dear lads in khaki, here's to you Who left your home, and sweet hearts too, To fight for freedom, truth and right, To vanquish foes who rule by might.

You've been homesick, you've almost cried, And sometimes wished that you had died Before you had to enter camp And train through mire, mud and damp.

You took maneuvers with great pain Through sleet and snow and storm and rain; Your feet were blistered, bruised and sore; You fought on, as you fought before.

You gained in strength, endurance too, Till you could fight each battle through. Your judgment, force, intrepid will Proved you supreme o'er Nazi skill.

That direful dread has been erased While righteous wrath has fear replaced. You'll grasp the chance to fight those Japs Till they are driven off the maps.

Destroy the Nazis, foot and hand, That they'll no more pollute the land. And make this globe a happy place With world-wide peace for every race.

We stand behind you with our all, Until the Nazis crash and fall. And till Japan has breather her last— We pray that day is coming fast.

T. A. Black returned Saturday from St. Louis where he bought goods for the Allen & Black store.

Ray Robbins is visiting this week with his mother, Mrs. Earl Robbins.

Cal Farley Talked About Hitler At Lions Luncheon

Adolph Hitler is the greatest showman on earth. Barnum, when compared to Hitler, was a bum. So stated Cal Farley of Amarillo, to the Lions Club at the luncheon Tuesday noon.

Mr. Farley had opportunity to see and hear Hitler and observe how he conducted his publicity campaign while he was visiting in Europe during the last Olympic games which were held in Germany.

At that time the Germans had completed an exceedingly fine system of national highways, according to Mr. Farley. These highways avoided crowded cities and excluded all civilian travel when it was necessary to move troops and supplies.

Foreigners were fooled and Germans were enlightened as to the strength of the German armies by an ingenious method of parades, 26 of which were held in one month.

Guests present at the luncheon were C. A. Murray, Canyon; W. W. Nicklaus, Canyon; Bill Mack Gibson, Canyon; and Maurice Norman, Friona.

Demonstration Held

board is helpful. Cut the beans into 1 1/2 to 2 inch lengths. Use 1 teaspoon of dairy salt for each quart of beans; place the salt in the bottom of the jar to save time. Fill the jar with the uncooked beans. Cover with boiling water; the water covering the beans by an inch. Place jars in the cooker and pre-heat in the jar 15 minutes. Remove from cooker, place lids and seal. Put in pressure cooker and process quart jars 35 minutes at 12 pounds pressure (or 245 degrees).

Experiments show that heat, air and water destroy the vitamin content of fruits and vegetables; therefore more vitamin content is saved by heating all foods—vegetables, fruits, poultry and meat after they have been packed in the jar. Food should be very hot when sealed; this shrinks the food, drives out the air, prevents flat sour and aids in a better seal.

Mrs. Graham and Miss Frankie Phillips assisted Miss Wilroy in giving the demonstration.

Although the community does not have a home demonstration club, Mrs. Graham was generous in her invitations, as she invited all of her neighbors and friends to come. Lovely refreshments were served to Miss Phillips and Miss Wilroy and Mesdames George Abbott, John L. Hammond, Frank Henderson, I. L. Gillespie, Monroe Lowrey, Rosa Woolsey, E. C. Powell, J. T. Casler, A. B. Fortner, Frank Dorris, G. M. Stuart, Toynette Nelson, J. W. Schwallier, Gwen McFarland, and Misses Bobby, Mabel, Bette and Billy Graham, other children and the hostess.

Fairview Breezes

Rev. Loyd Garrison delivered an excellent sermon Sunday morning. We enjoyed the services at Wayside Sunday night.

We are sorry to learn of Grandma Moore's illness. Hollis Shipman, her grandson, took her to an Amarillo hospital Saturday afternoon.

Leona and Geraldine Sharpes visited the paternal Sharpes home Saturday night.

Juanita Schaeffer is home this week for a vacation.

Vesta and Lavinia Amerson visited the paternal F. O. Amerson home Saturday night.

Dinner guests in the E. W. Schaeffer home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shipman and children, Nan Earley, Jerry and Doyle Jean, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson and sons, Ervin and Darrell, Mrs. C. M. Rogers, Rev. Loyd Garrison and his mother, Mrs. Garrison, and Florene Evans.

Misses Vesta Amerson, Lola Belle Wesley, Evelyn Schaeffer and Delbert Wesley went kodaking Sunday afternoon.

G. E. Wesley expects to have an operation on his nose Thursday.

Mrs. Caldwell is staying with her grandmother Moore in Amarillo.

Our revival begins next Sunday. We invite everyone to attend these services.

Pleasantview

Mrs. Mary Dooley, from Hollywood, Calif., is visiting in the Milton Dooley home. She is Mr. Dooley's sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Davenport and family and Mrs. Lester Smith and daughters, Nell and Stella, attended the Wayside convention this week.

Lavon and Margie Fewell from McAdoo visited with their aunt, Mrs. Earl Burtz, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Louder and baby from Wayside visited in the Rayford Louder home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Layman from Muleshoe spent Wednesday and Thursday in the Milton Dooley home.

Pfc. Conn L. Roberts, son of Mrs. Josie Roberts of Stratford, is here on a 10-day furlough visiting his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Hill. Pfc. Roberts, who is stationed in San Diego, has been with the United States Marine Corps, for ten weeks. Pfc. Dan A. Murray of Beckley, West Virginia, is here with Pfc. Roberts.

Mrs. Roy D. Worley of Ellington Field and Mrs. Josie Roberts of Stratford are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Hill, and Pfc. Conn L. Roberts of San Diego, who is home on furlough.

Mrs. C. P. Tyeatt, Mrs. E. C. Roberson's daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forrest of Canadian, visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roberson Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Edgar Roberson visited with her mother, Mrs. Charley Davenport Saturday afternoon.

Ervin and Earlene Davis and James Nix visited with Patsy Powell Sunday.

The farmers are all busy plowing their wheat land.

BUY BOOKS

Investigation shows that books will become more and more scarce as the war continues. This means that those who buy books should contemplate their needs and place orders early.

Children Books

We have the largest stock of children's books that we have ever shown. There is no stock in the Southwest as complete as this department. But these books will not last long.

We advise that you buy your winter books soon, especially books for Christmas gifts.

Leaders of Our Armed Forces

Although Jonathan Wainwright was only a name to many people before the war started, he was already well known to the men who served under him, and had the good fortune to have him for a commanding officer. The men who knew there was a war coming, the leaders of our armed forces, knew that General Wainwright was a man upon whom they could depend. They realized that all through his career in the Army, he had been steadfast and resolute in everything he did, and so it was that he was assigned to one of our most vulnerable outposts, to work with General MacArthur in strengthening it for the test which was coming.

Although these two men warned the country that there was trouble ahead, our lawmakers were too busy with their own petty squabbles, to pay attention to an outpost so far from our own shores. When the time came, after December 7th, for the reinforcement of the garrison on the Philippines, it was too late, and these men were ordered to defend our possession as best they could. Retreat followed retreat, but still our men fought, until there was no more fight left in. By this time, MacArthur was in Australia, and Wainwright had to carry on the fight as well as he could while he was still able to muster any resistance. Finally, he could hold out no longer, and he surrendered to save useless loss of life. It must, indeed, have been a bitter blow to him to have to surrender when the strongest nation in the world couldn't get supplies to him.

After the surrender, Wainwright and other officers were separated from the enlisted men, and sent to a small island where they were to be kept as prisoners of war. Although it was a hard blow to take, Wainwright today is still confident. He knows, that some day, in the near future, he will see and hear the sounds of American troops coming to free him, and that it won't be very long until Old Glory once again flies over the Philippines, and he will be able to return to his native land to receive the cheers of its people for the splendid job he did, and the time he gave us, by his defense of that island, to prepare ourselves for the hard task ahead.

Each and every one of us owes a debt of gratitude to Jonathan Wainwright, and his men, for the splendid job they did in delaying the enemy so long, and giving us time to prepare for the defense of America.

Roses and Thorns

Roses:

To Mr. Biemforth, our geography teacher who is teaching us that which will help us so much in our flying. The world, its relationship with the sun and moon, atmosphere and temperature conditions and a most helpful phase, map projections, their advantages and disadvantages for navigations.

To Dr. Knott, our English teacher who helps us day after day to become more proficient in our play of words, both in diction and writing. To help us in overcoming that nervousness most of us have when appearing before people. For individual help on his own time.

To Aviation Students Fisher and Thompson for their amusing contributions, whether awake or asleep.

To those who gave us verbal contentions such as the word "plenty" with which our squadrons continually expresses themselves.

To Canyon citizens who treat us with respect and go far beyond what the word kindness implies with their many warm greetings, lifts, and Sunday dinners.

Thorns:

To Longhorn Gunter and Bigstoo Diener for their previous preachings on AWOL and then we learn of their escapades deeper into Texas plains on a mechanical search which brought no rewards, only regrets.

To those reporters in whom we have faith for their weekly material and at the time for publishing we find them unprepared.

To those students who doodled on a list of names from which originated an article for their enjoyment, that was prepared on a certain reporter's valuable time.

For the quizzes that have appeared with rapidity the last few days and in which we see very little light of letting up.

For the extreme heat between five and five thirty each evening, at which time we have our retreat and inspection formations.

Flight One

By Moose

There is a lot of truth in the statement that a World Conflict brings the world much closer together, let's take a portion of the world, these grand United States and let's see how the United States is brought closer together by this chaotic mad house conquest. Take Flight One at West Texas State Teachers College Training Detachment (Air Crew). We have a representation of most of these United States in this one small organization. May I take this opportunity to list the men in the Flight and their respective states:

A. V. Ball, Texas.
J. H. Birtles, Connecticut.
J. R. Boswell, Jr., Montana.
J. T. Bray, Georgia.
M. G. Cruger, Washington.
F. E. Davis, Jr., Kansas.
L. E. Faulkner, Kansas.
C. E. Fisher, Indiana.
R. V. Gardner, New Mexico.
H. Goldsmith, New York.
M. P. Gurski, Illinois.
J. L. Higday, Colorado.
E. Irick, Yukon Territory, Alaska.
R. S. Joy, Texas.
L. J. Koonce, Arizona.
W. C. Maas, Washington.
B. J. Michel, Louisiana.
L. W. Noe, Idaho.
M. J. Olsen, Utah.
J. N. Payne, Missouri.
R. D. Pearson, South Dakota.
K. K. Pence, Indiana.
T. G. Shapiro, Illinois.
E. E. Sharp, Arkansas.
R. E. Sharples, California.
H. W. Stone, Idaho.
R. G. Teece, Massachusetts.
J. B. Tierney, Missouri.
S. F. Turner, Kansas.
J. R. Ward, Missouri.
W. R. Whaley, Missouri.
L. W. Williamson, Alabama.

It annoys one of our Misterys in Flight One for the class to take an intermission during the physics class, we have a two hour class, and there is a brief intermission for a drink of water between the two hours. The shuffling of feet disturbs that Mister's sleep to the point of aggravation; he suggests we go through the two hours without ever taking a break, this would allow for a more concentrated sleep.

A new group of men came in, and from what we gather they are pretty tired. They had ridden for forty-eight hours in a day coach. You know from past experience that this method of travel will cramp you for sleep. They like it here and are determined to make the grades required and to do everything in their power to get a good start in earning their wings. We wish each and everyone of you men the best of luck.

Seems as though this column is read by the men, last Saturday evening the weekly dance at Cousins Hall was half-way of a success, there was plenty of Misterys there, but where were the girls? To get a dance was considerably easy—to take more than four or five steps was an impossibility. Some Saturday to the surprise of all there will be a happy medium of both girls and boys.

The Canyon News ran a front page story last week on infantile paralysis, no cases appearing in Randall county, stating that flies were the chief bearer of this palsy disease. We spent a good two hours in seeing that the breeding places of flies around our barracks was done away with, Saturday afternoon. Some of the Misterys took the job so serious as to use G. I. brushes and mops on the grass in the rear of the barracks. There has from this writers survey been an increasing number of these pests; any method of destroying them will pay dividends in human lives saved. Aviation students should take this precaution, as individuals, to rid their rooms of flies at every opportunity.

A business man said: "A War Bond gives me double for my money, for it helps to keep the Nation solvent in wartime and will keep me solvent in peacetime."

Wife: "Marie, don't you think my husband is a dimwit?"
Marie: "Oul, madame, he es very amusing in ze dark."

The Third Flight

By Mike

Last week after we came in from one of our night drilling sessions, at which Sqdn. Capt. Jackson had roundly bawled us out for bad drilling, A S Miller was heard to say, "I can understand now why Texans always stick together. Jackson is from Tennessee. Must be a coincidence?"

We, Misterys of Flight 3, are really making progress in our Math. Next week we hope to take up long division and multiplication. This elementary arithmetic is easily forgotten. Right, men!

The whole flight 3 was in an uproar Friday, thumping through their Field Manuals. They were trying to find out who should take charge when our Group Adjutant, our Squadron Captain, and our First Sergeant were asleep in Math class. It was decided to wake the one with the least rank.

Mr. Richards, our history professor, says "The European Peace Conference will be held in 1944." Let us hope he is right.

A S Trammell was astounded in our first geography lesson to find out the world was round. He still goes around mumbling about it.

A move is being made in Squadron "T" to write a petition to President Roosevelt asking that A S Rodine be allowed to wear his "Gunners Wings" while a student. Rodine would rest better at night.

When asked why he was always last on the road runs, First Sergeant Cook replied, "I must stay back and see that all of you men finish." It isn't that urgent, Cook.

It seems that one of our men, Dorfman by name, wants to spend half of his time in Amarillo. You know this is the army, Dorfman, and I think that's against regulations.

Heil! Spatz! seems to be the new by-word around Squadron "T." It is respectfully dedicated to our new Group Adjutant.

According to Flight 3, there are too many Misterys in the Staff who march to chow first.

Flying Buffaloes

Flight Two

Since your regular correspondent is wrapped up in his Physics book, the writing of this column has been undertaken by an amateur. Please don't judge too harshly, because we all have to learn sometime.

There is a rumor going around to the effect that there will be a tennis tournament and a track meet, in the near future. We sure hope so, because the members of this flight are just waiting for a chance to show some of the other flights how good they are in sports. Flight two has some sports figures that can hold their own with the best of them, and we are just aching for a chance to show them off. Here's hoping that we get the opportunity to put them on exhibition.

Another two weeks' period has passed, and once again the teachers send their reports to Captain Corby on the activities of the men during the past two weeks. Those of the men who have fallen below a grade of seventy will be called upon to explain why they have fallen so low in their studies. The men are all waiting anxiously to hear the result of their work, and to find out if they will be called upon to do any explaining.

One of the young gentlemen from our flight seems to have a little trouble with his feet when it comes time to march into the Science building for classes. The other evening, he got tangled up in his feet, and insisted on letting his temper get the best of him. He was seen sitting on the curbing and threatening to cut his foot off if it didn't stop getting in his way. Must be the heat.

This week the men of this flight want to extend a challenge to any of the other flights that might be interested, to meet us in a game of basketball or football. As you all know, Army rules prevent us from playing contact ball, but we will welcome a game of touch ball if anyone wishes. Contact Mister Ohenmus for football, Misterys Lee or Kolb for basketball at Buffalo Courts.

It looks like this about winds up our little effort for this week, maybe your regular reporter will be back next week.

Elva Fronabarger to Teach Next Week

Miss Elva Fronabarger, principal of Canyon's grade school, will teach a course in the psychology of the learning process to all interested mothers and Sunday School workers next week at the Baptist Church. Class will meet four nights at 7:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. There is no charge and any who are interested are invited.

An editor's job is not always what it's typed up to be. Take, for example, the case of the Kentucky editor who wound up an obituary notice with what he thought the very graceful statement that the deceased had "gone to a happier home." The widow sued him for libel.

"How did you get that black eye?"
"I was protecting a little boy."
"That's noble; who was he?"
"Me."

Canyon is slated to be on the Alaska to Cape Horn Highway which will be completed by the time the war ends. While pressure is being exerted to divert this highway to other sections of the United States, highway officials are certain that the main highway will go through Texas, as shown on above map.

America Must Cease Being Santa Claus Advises Speaker

C. D. Richards, who is here from Arlington to teach in the summer session of W. T., spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon.

Mr. Richards discussed the ill-fated League of Nations, and gave his ideas as to how peace must be preserved after this war. He assailed the New Deal, and the efforts of some of this group to reconstruct the world.

The League of Nations did not accomplish one single thing which threatened the peace of the world, stated the speaker. Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia was the beginning of this war in 1935, and result of an agreement of England and Italy, with the consent of France, to carve up Ethiopia.

The speaker discussed the complicated agreements which were made among the powers of Europe, and how England agreed for Germany to increase her war power in return for trade agreements. The Axis was not formed until 1936, when Hitler moved to the Rhine, without protest from other nations. If a League of Nations is formed after this war, it means the destruction of our modern states, and we do not trust Japan, Germany, Italy and Russia.

He termed Henry Wallace and Wendell Willkie as stupid in their dreams of world reorganization. The speaker does not believe the four freedoms are human. We are not going to divide everything we have with other nations. Churchill has made it clear that the British Empire is not going to be disintegrated after the war.

Stalin is a practical politician. He has refused to meet Roosevelt and Churchill simply because he is not going to commit himself on peace terms. Hitler would be glad to make peace with Stalin on the latter's own terms, and Roosevelt and Churchill know this.

Mr. Richards stated that he has his own ideas of peace terms after the war: The United States will be the most powerful nation in the world. Let the English speaking nations form a federation, with the view of using economic pressure, or actual military force, against any nation which refuses to be decent. "And stop trying to be Santa Claus to all of the people of the world."

New Booklet Out On Reorganization Plan For W. T.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of the College, has just completed the editing of a booklet on reorganization of West Texas State College.

The purpose of this booklet, which will be given wide distribution, is to acquaint the public with the reorganization plan in which the local college has pioneered in Texas.

The publication emphasizes new personnel services which are of particular value to freshmen and sophomore students. In the lower division, general educational guidance, guidance in curricula, and vocational guidance are provided every student. This is of special importance to students who must prepare for employment in the shortest possible time.

The variety of work which can be secured in the upper division, and the special opportunities presented in the graduate division are emphasized.

The booklet gives considerable space to the school of business and public administration, the school of education, and the school of arts and sciences.

The new publication was assembled partly to answer the questions which are being asked by faculties of other colleges which are thinking of their own reorganization plans.

Dr. Jarrett was assisted by a committee consisting of Dr. A. M. Meyer, Dr. D. A. Shirley, Dr. Lee Johnson, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, and Professor F. E. Savage.

Mistress: "This food tastes terrible. Did you salt it?"
New Cook: "Yes'm, but I never used that brand before. It was called Epsom Salts."

Frank Oliver: "Name five things that contain milk."
Jim Robinson: "Butter 'n' cheese 'n' ice cream—'n' two cows."

"Opinion, Mr. President, is divided as to whether the use of air power could by itself bring about the collapse in Germany or Italy. The experiment is well worth trying..."

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, addressing the joint session of Congress, Washington, May 19, 1943

WHAT SAVED BRITAIN in the blitz of 1940? Some authorities say that the defeat of the Luftwaffe can be credited chiefly to a difference of only 13 points in octane number!

While the Germans had only 87 octane aviation gasoline, the good planes and gallant pilots of the R.A.F. had 100 octane. This gave the Royal Air Force reduced fuel consumption, and greater horsepower for faster climbing... greater altitude... extra maneuverability.

Phillips and the American petroleum industry are today supplying great quantities of 100-plus octane gasoline. This super-fuel increases enormously the fighting effectiveness of U.S. and all United Nations war planes.

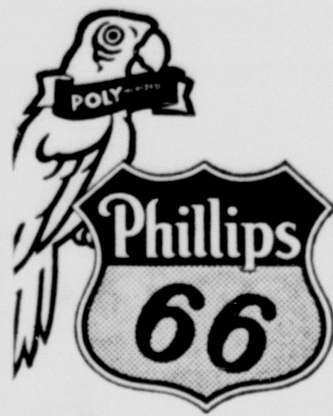

No wonder the British Prime Minister is never more confident than when predicting great air offensives to devastate Germany and Italy, to lay "the cities and other munitions centers of Japan in ashes."

Thanks to its long-range program of peacetime research, Phillips Petroleum Company was one of the first to take 100 octane aviation gasoline out of the laboratory and into mass production. The making of these American super-fuels is not merely a refining process; it is actually the synthetic production of chemicals!

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Baptists Hope to Pay Debt Sunday

For two years the First Baptist Church of Canyon has been running its finances strictly on a voluntary basis with no public collections, no pledges and no collectors. Within less than a year they have reduced a debt of more than seven thousand dollars to less than two thousand dollars, and they propose to pay the entire amount with voluntary gifts, according to report of the pastor, Dr. Roy L. Johnson.

Sunday, August 8th, has been designated as "Debt Fund Day" and all offerings given during the day will go to the reduction of the debt, and it is the hope that enough will be paid in Sunday to pay all the balance of the mortgage, even though the final payment on it will not be due until 1952—eight and a half years yet.

No public collection will be taken other than passing the plates as is done each week. The pastor will preach at both morning and evening hours, 11:00 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. Sunday School will be at 9:45 and Training Union at 7:15.

Answers to Questions About Your Electric Service

"Is It Rationed?"

NO! Because the Business Management of your Electric Company planned adequate capacity to serve you years in advance of need!

TODAY, as YESTERDAY, there is plenty of electricity here to serve your known needs... in home, store and industry.

TOMORROW every effort will be made to meet essential needs of all. But, remember, please... electricity is vitally necessary to our war production. It is the "life-blood" of industry. As such, your use of electricity should be prudent. Don't waste it... just because it is not rationed.

"Has the Quality Changed?"

NO! Day or night... whenever you have need for the many services of Electricity... this service is always "standing by"... ready to help in any task. When you press a switch or plug in time and labor-saving electric appliances you have the assurance of instant service... right at your finger tips! So dependable is your electric service one never questions its ready response. That is taken for granted.

"Has the Price Gone Up?"

NO! Your cost for a kilowatt hour of electricity is the lowest in history! Your 1943 dollar buys almost twice as much electricity as that of your 1920 dollar.

To appreciate this lower cost, think of the many added uses you now make of electricity in your home. In 1920 it was a light bill. Today the bill covers many more electric services... at only a slightly higher cost for all!

Costs of producing and distributing electricity have steadily increased, but sound Business Management makes it possible to still give you more electricity at less cost to you!
